I.- READ AND PRACTISE YOUR VOCABULARY. (Lee y practica tu vocabulario)

Around the World

Different people from different parts of the world express their feelings and opinions in different ways. In Chile, greeting somebody with a kiss on the cheek is normal but in other countries, like Japan, it could lead to a misunderstanding. This is why it's important to know other people's boundaries. Learning how to express your feelings and opinions is very important to develop your own personality, but listening to the other person is equally important.
